PERSONAL STATEMENT

I am a fourth year MMath student at the University of Warwick. Logical reasoning, basic Java and Matlab are some of the skills I gained as part of my studies. In addition, the research I am undertaking this summer shows a clear aptitude for understanding and solving complex problems.

My ability to use enthusiasm and creativity to succeed in a variety of organisations and roles demonstrates versatility. Public speaking and liaising duties in societies shows proven capabilities in communication. The strong interpersonal skills I possess can be demonstrated through volunteering roles such as teaching in South Africa. Finally, I am passionate about contributing to any community I belong to, displayed by my activities in Athena Swan.
